Dr. Tong was a kind, knowledgeable, and enthusiastic lecturer who was always willing to help students in their learning process. What I particularly liked about his teaching style was small quizzes taken from students during each class, which were designed to engage students in the courses and boost their learning. Overall, I'm completely satisfied with his teaching style.

The instructor was knowledgeable and explained complex concepts clearly. He provided helpful examples and was approachable for questions. His teaching was organized and made the course easier to understand.

Very motivated and inspiring teacher

It's really hard to follow and understand the professor's explanations of the material, and the slides don't do a great job of making things clear either. The practice sets are somewhat helpful, but when I try to follow the professor's explanation of the solutions, I often end up feeling lost.

Best course, very good teaching just need some time to adjust to accent. After that its excellent class

N/A

Professor was so good at teaching.

Perfect professional professor.

Good

Good knowledge on subject

Fair

The way he teaches is not easy to understand.

a patient and great instructor.

Students are human, not robots. He should treat them with a little more sympathy and care.

Sometimes we try our best, still we fail to perform well due to complexity of the topics. He should work towards it. Otherwise his teaching is ok.

good

It could be better that providing more solution for slice question, do no leave for self-solve after class

Instructor lectures and notes are clear and understandable.

none

The instructor was really knowledgeable and explained the concepts in lay men terms.

The instructor has a well organized material which has practices to emphasize the topics he covered.

The instructor demonstrated excellent knowledge of the subject and explained complex topics in an understandable way. He was always prepared for lectures and provided well-structured materials to support learning. The instructor was approachable and encouraged questions both during and outside class, making learning more engaging. his use of real-life examples to explain algorithms helped me relate theoretical concepts to practical applications. I appreciate the timely feedback provided on assignments, which helped me improve throughout the course. The instructor created a positive learning environment and genuinely cared about students' understanding of the material. Some challenging concepts could be explained with additional clarity, but overall, their teaching style was effective.

Excellent, very helpful.

Excellent

Very knowledgeable on the subject.

Thank you very much for making difficult topics easy to understand. I have learned many new algorithms and proofs that I did not know about before. Thank you very much for the helpful In-class practice as well!
